 Indian Red Cross Society

National Headquarters
1, Red Cross Road, New Delhi - 110001

(Affiliated to Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University, Delhi)

Mission Statement

The Indian Red Cross Society is a national federation of more than 700 Red Cross branches.

Neither the headquarters nor the branches are by themselves the Society. It is their collectivity interwoven together that makes up the Indian Red Cross Society.

They inspire, encourage and initiate at all times all forms of humanitarian activities so that human suffering can be minimized, alleviated and even prevented... and thus contribute to creating a more congenial climate for peace.

MESSAGE

I am very happy that the PG Diploma Course in Disaster Preparedness and Rehabilitation started by the Indian Red Cross Society (IRCS) in the year 2006 is blossoming. The IRCS officers and staff exhibited dedication and voluntary spirit in running the course year after year even unmindful that the classes are held beyond office hours and on weekends. The state of art facilities provided at the Disaster Management Centre, where the course is run, is also being used by others thereby helping IRCS to generate resources.

I am happy that the IRCS is bracing itself to admit the 4th batch of students in the next academic session (2009-10). So far majority of the students admitted have been officers from the offices/Ministries/Departments of the Government of India; defence services, medicine, judiciary and national/international relief & development agencies who have proved their worth and credentials in the field of disaster management.

Disasters occur, recur and are inevitable in nature. Bihar floods of 2008 were unprecedented as the bane of Bihar, river Kosi, returned to its century old path to create havoc affecting over 4.8 million people. Disasters are changing their nature, trend and course making any predictions risky and result in unimaginable threats to the vulnerable population.

The IRCS with its multidisciplinary approach in disaster management is committed to mitigate the sufferings of the people and is fully prepared to provide leadership in training, teaching and creating a cadre of qualified persons who are academically and practically equipped.

I am glad to know that the Indian Red Cross Society is geared up to start enrolments for the next batch for the session 2009-10 the classes of which shall start in August, 2009. I hope that the clamour for admission to this useful course would surpass the previous years.

I wish the Indian Red Cross Society and those joining the course all success and good luck.

About the Organization

INDIAN RED CROSS SOCIETY

Apart from promoting humanitarian principles and values, the Indian Red Cross Society (IRCS) is actively involved in disaster response, relief, disaster preparedness and health care in the community. The IRCS is a national federation of more than 700 branches spread all over the country and is one of the largest National Society in the World.

Established in 1920 by an Act XV of Parliament, the Indian Red Cross Society has wide and varied experience in disaster relief work ranging from 1934 Bihar earthquake to 1999 super cyclone in Orissa, 2001 Gujarat earthquake, and to 2004 Tsunami in Coastal areas in Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu and Kerala and J&K earthquake in 2005. It has an inside network of 700 branches having 12 million members and Voluntary workers available all over India.

The IRCS being a member, has close links with the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) and the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC). These are non political, humanitarian organizations having wide exposure and experience in the related fields. The IRCS has also established good working relationships with other National Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies. The IRCS benefits immensely from these organizations technically and financially in times of needs and for the purpose of capacity building .

CENTRAL TRAINING INSTITUTE (CTI)

The IRCS has established a state of art Central Training Institute (CTI) at Bahadurgarh on the fringes of Delhi. It is spread over an area of 5 acres and has all the modern facilities of a training Institute. It contains equipments that are needed by a Disaster Response Unit- (DRU) for providing hands on training, water pools for training rescue operations and state of art training facilities for inhouse training and outdoor drills.

DISASTER MANAGEMENT CENTRE (DMC)

The IRCS has developed a Disaster Management Centre at the National Headquarters which is retrofitted. This serves as a base for all disaster related activities. The centre is designed to strive for improved overall disaster management planning and response, as also for long term risk reduction activities. It has facilities to link all state branches and warehouses to provide efficient response and better coordination and monitoring. It serve as an information and knowledge management centre, monitor response operation and a need based 24 hours control room.

POST GRADUATE DIPLOMA COURSE IN DISASTER PREPAREDNESS AND REHABILITATION (DP & R)

Besides imparting training in First Aid through St. John Ambulance and preparing National Disaster Relief Teams, the IRCS keeping in view the acute shortage of trained manpower in disaster preparedness activities, is working towards having a cadre of qualified trainers through Post Graduate Diploma Course at its National Headquarters with its affiliation to the GGSIP University, Delhi.
